THE 1953 SKETCH BOOK

EDGEWOOD PARK

BRIARCLIFF MANOR, NEW YORK

The 1953 SKETCH BOOK Staff

Presents

HISTORY OF THE SEASON

FOREWORD

IN THIS BOOK are contained the memories of our years spent at Edgewood Park. These are the bright spots in our past—they will stand out in our future like lights on Broadway. In presenting this book, we, the editors, hope to bring to mind all the things that will forever remain a part of each girl's life.

While at school, we have each followed a chosen path and found a career in the making. The successes we have encountered have surpassed the times we have stumbled along "The Great White Way." This will be an incentive for us to continue on into a successful future.

The girls that are leaving Edgewood Park this year are as original as "South Pacific", as sentimental as "You Belong To Me", as successful as Ethel Barrymore, as simple as "The Quiet Man", and yet as deeply moving as "Sudden Fear", as natural as Herb Shriner, as humorous as the team of Martin and Lewis . . . they make up the "Hits of the Season"!

We beg your indulgence for using the terms of the theater in the titles for the Administration, the Faculty, and the Staff.

MANAGING EXECUTIVE

MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF 1953

BLESSINGS on these young people of the Class of 1953 who are so soon to go out from us. I hope that they may be given to see that they will write the record of their years in human life; that the value of their living will be measured by the qualities they put into that living. I pray that they may from day to day add to their faith, courage; to courage, wisdom; to wisdom, patience; and to patience, Godliness, kindliness and charity. May they give their best to life, and in giving, receive from life the best, so that their joy may be full.

HOUSE PRESIDENTS

Twice a year girls are selected to act as assistants to the Student Council. The Vice-President of Council, with the approval of the Discipline Committee, selects to act as proctors, girls with leadership ability. Their job includes such tasks as checking attendance in Assembly Meetings, and maintaining quiet after "lights out". All credit to them!

FIRE PROCTORS

This is a position of responsibility, and one in which the girls must keep a level head in any emergency. In our practice fire drills these Proctors must see that the students close their room windows, have on warm clothing, and lead their special groups to their designated fire stations. Upon arriving at the fire stations, they check to see that everyone is accounted for. With these Proctors, we have nothing to fear!!

SKETCH BOOK EDITORIAL

WE WILL never forget the hectic nights and the countless afternoons pounding typewriters, thinking of ideas, writing, rejecting, cutting, drawing, pasting, and the inevitable deadline! Even though at times we thought our brains would wear out, we plugged on and on and here is the result.

We want to thank the Advisors, Mrs. Steele and Miss Christy, for their devoted co-operation and unselfish assistance at all times. Without this guidance we would never have published the hit yearbook of the season.
